A STORY

LOSING SOMETHINGS CAN FEEL GREAT!

"Within 2-3 days
the pain and stiffness experienced after getting out of bed dropped by 60-80%."

My name is John Nycz. I played baseball and hockey into my late twenties. Then there was the car wreck in 1995, and a few mountain bike tumbles. Lots of injuries. But the overall joint pain and stiffness that plagued My mornings appear not to have been caused by my injuries. What?

I used to call it "getting oiled up". That 20 - 30 minutes in the morning of pain and stiffness. I had to move through it every day. The irony is that in the end it was "getting oiled up" that changed everything.

In the fall a former business partner -- one of your neighbors, reached out for some help marketing a new product. They were adding a line of Cannabidiol Oil. Highest purity, top quality ... blah, blah. They sent me samples for photo shoots. I started doing research. I tried it.

Here is what happened for me:

Within 2-3 days the pain and stiffness experienced immediately after getting out of bed dropped by 60-80%.
I also experienced a clarity of focus and a sense of calm.

So, in marketing terms, I am an independent data point of one. I wouldn't buy much myself on the advice of one idiot who is being paid to market something in the first place. But I will say this, "It is time to learn about it." In the 1980's the ECS (Endocannabinoid System) was discovered. What is now being learned about it will change the way physicians are trained (according to physician's ... not me)! Here's a quick list of other human conditions that manipulating the ECS appears to be driving impact with:

- Pain Relief
- Anxiety Relief
- Fibromyalgia
- Depression
- ADD/ADHD
- Parkinson's Disease

- IBS (Irritable Bowel Syndrome)
- Epilepsy, Seizures & Convulsions
- Sleep Disorders
- Multiple Sclerosis
- Smoking Cessation
